PROFILE

Hello World!

I love flexing my creative muscle by crafting solutions to ideas or problems. I have developed technical skills that make me an asset to confronting the challenges of building sites and web apps. I found a love for team work while attending a web development bootcamp where I also learned to play using my strengths, one of which is collecting feedback to improve myself or a part of the project. When a project "ends", a great feeling comes from seeing someones mood light up when they see your creation then realize its usefulness.

RECENT PROJECTS

Think Tank United static-site & web-app

While attending the Integrify bootcamp, I helped create the design system and coded the first draft using Gatsby, since graduation another team moved the project forward using WordPress.

FitiKunto(in-progress) static-site

I designed and coded a promo site for a great imaginary local gym.
